Rights Respecting Schools and Global Learning

We want our children to have high personal expectations and the belief that they can achieve their dreams.

We want our children to understand that their rights as a child are unconditional and that adults are duty bearers.

We want our children to develop their understanding of their role as citizens within local and global contexts and extend their knowledge of the wider world.

GLRRS is threaded through the curriculum to provide children with the tools (e.g. critical thinking, self-regulating and resilience) that they need to be able to confidently express opinions, beliefs and know that their rights exist in a diverse society.
